Fund Manager Comment

Market environment

MENA equities, represented by the S&P Pan Arab Composite Large Midcap index shed 1.27% in the reporting month. Relative to global markets, Mena Equities marginally underperformed the MSCI World by 4.63%. Global equities extended the uptrend in to March supported robust economic data out of the US. Both equity and bond markets are anticipating sooner rather than later interest rate cuts. Commodity complex represented by the Bloomberg Commodity Index was up 2.89%. Brent crude oil prices rose by 6.80% during the month.

Portfolio performance

The fund marginally outperformed its benchmark primarily due to selection effects. Funds relative performance positively impacted by underweight in the Qatar and Morocco. Negative contribution to relative performance from overweight position Kuwait. From a sectoral perspective, the biggest contributors to positive relative performance were Financials and Industrials. While Healthcare and Materials were negative contributors to relative performance.

Outlook

Mena markets relative performance to global markets pulled back from intermediate high in mid-2022. We anticipate that the pullback will make a higher lower and reverse back to the upward trajectory established. Commodity prices to benefit from the recovery of the global economy following structural changes in supply in the previous decade. Valuations remain undemanding while earnings growth expected at higher single digit.
